Schlesinger, Colby Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger and CIA Director William E. Colby are being ousted in a reshuffle of U.S. national security posts, according to top Pentagon officials.

At the same time, Henry A. Kissinger will relinquish his job as chairman of the National Security Council while remaining secretary of state, the officials said.

A high-ranking Republican source said Schlesinger will be replaced by Donald Rumsfeld, White House chief of staff; Colby by George Bush, now U.S. representative to China, and that Kissinger will be replaced as NSC chairman by Air Force Lt. Gen. Brent Scowcroft, Kissinger's deputy and protégé.

President Ford cancelled all of his previously announced appointments today, and the White House gave no immediate explanation.

Ford and top White House officials declined Sunday night to confirm or deny the shuffle. When newsmen inquired about the reported changes, Ford coyly replied: "I love you all;" Kissinger responded with small jokes, and White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen shrugged and declined to say when he might have something to say.

There have been longstanding differences between Schlesinger and Kissinger over detente. Kissinger has designed and supported detente with the Soviet Union while Schlesinger often has expressed a more skeptical attitude toward that policy.

Democratic critics indicated that Schlesinger's dismissal resulted from this friction between him and Kissinger and that Kissinger has emerged the winner in a power struggle.

Colby's replacement as CIA chief has been predicted for some time. He has been criticized for his stewardship at the CIA, although many of the misdeeds the agency has been accused of occurred before he became its head.

ROUNDTOWN

THE Syndicate put in an appearance Saturday at The Meadows, a plush harness racing track at Washington, Pa., where some locally owned and trained horses are campaigning.

Rumors from Circleville underground circles have the local branch of the mob was more than a little interested in Jerry MacPherson, owned by the estate of Forrest Short and by Harry Short of Aiken, S. C., who finished third in the third race and in Sugar Lang, owned by George A. Fissell, who was second in the fifth race.

Russ Baldwin is the trainer-driver of both pacers.

John Fissell, godfather of the Roundtown family, and 13 of his henchmen were conspicuous by their absence from their usual haunts Saturday and may well have been the contingent that made the trip.

ACCORDING to usage records received by the local Red Cross more than 200 units of blood have been used by Pickaway County residents since the last visit of the Bloodmobile.

Relatives and friends of these patients are encouraged to make replacement donations at the Thursday visit to Circleville.

Eleven Open-heart surgeries are scheduled this week at four hospitals in Columbus.

The Pentagon officials said Schlesinger was surprised to learn Sunday morning at a White House meeting with Ford that he was being fired. Schlesinger had spent 90 minutes with Ford on Saturday in a wide-ranging policy discussion described as "cordial" by Pentagon officials and there was no hint that his ouster was imminent, the sources said.

When he was asked to return Sunday morning, Schlesinger assumed it was for a continuation of those policy talks, they said.

Both Schlesinger and Colby turned down offers of other government jobs, the sources said. In Schlesinger's case, the offer included an ambassadorship.

One Pentagon official said, "No matter how sugarcoated by the White House, Schlesinger will take the position he was fired. But he also will take the high road," meaning that Schlesinger is unlikely to vent his anger in public.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., criticized Schlesinger's ouster, saying it represented the end of the "last vestige of dissent" to Kissinger's policies. Jackson said Kissinger's move from the NSC post was a "sop." Kissinger has been criticized for holding both that job and the secretary of state's post on the ground that it concentrates too much power in the hands of a single person.

Rockefeller Steps Aside For 1976 VP Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller stepped aside today as President Ford's 1976 running mate, saying he does not want to be considered for the Republican ticket next year.

He did so in a letter to Ford, saying: "After much thought, I have decided that I do not wish my name to enter into your consideration for the upcoming Republican vice presidential nominee."

"I wish you to know this now for your own planning," Rockefeller said.

The Rockefeller announcement, a political bolt no one had anticipated, could undercut the planned presidential challenge of former California Gov. Ronald Reagan. The conservative Reagan had gained early support among Republicans who still see Rockefeller as the symbol of GOP liberalism.

Rockefeller's announcement was relayed by his press secretary Hugh Morrow, who said the vice president was delivering the letter to Ford today.

Rockefeller's decision means the Republican vice presidential spot will be an object of maneuver and potential political bargaining. It also means that if Ford does win the GOP nomination, he will be in a position to choose a new Republican face who would instantly become a party power for future campaigns.

There had been no advance signal that Rockefeller was considering the step he took today, but there had been public evidence of disagreement between the President and vice president over administration handling of the financial crisis besetting New York City.

Rockefeller, four times elected governor of New York, has advocated federal help for the city to avoid bankruptcy, but Ford has adamantly opposed any loan guarantees to back the city's debts.

Rockefeller, now 67, resigned as governor of New York in December of 1973, in what was then considered a move to position himself for a final presidential bid of his own in 1976.

But that was precluded when Richard M. Nixon resigned and Ford chose Rockefeller to become vice president. Rockefeller was nominated in September, 1973, and took the oath of office in December.

At the time Ford chose Rockefeller for the vice presidency, other Republicans considered prime prospects for the appointment included Sen. Howard H. Baker of Tennessee, George Bush, now U.S. representative in Peking, and Donald Rumsfeld, now a top assistant to Ford.

In launching his own 1976 campaign, Ford has said he would tell the Republican National Convention next summer that he wanted Rockefeller nominated for the vice presidency.

A White House spokesman said Rockefeller had talked to the President about his decision over the past few days, "at the initiative of the vice president."

Press secretary Ron Nessen said Ford had "absolutely not" asked Rockefeller to step aside.

Howard H. Callaway, Ford's campaign manager, has said Rockefeller would represent a problem for the President in the South and among conservatives. He also has declared that his assignment was to get Ford nominated, not to help Rockefeller.

Rockefeller himself has said repeatedly that the President should be free to make his own choice for second spot on the 1976 ticket.

In his letter to the President, Rockefeller said: "I have made clear to you and the public that I was not a candidate for the vice presidency, that no one realistically can be such, and that the choice of a vice presidential running mate is and must be up to the presidential candidate to recommend to a national party convention."

New York City Aid Seen In Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation aimed at averting a financial default by New York City faces an uphill battle in the Senate where there is little likelihood that President Ford's promised veto could be overridden, an Associated Press poll showed today.

Senate Democratic leaders were to decide Tuesday when to begin floor debate on a complex loan guarantee approved last week by the Senate Banking Committee. Some opponents of the aid are vowing a filibuster to prevent the bill from coming to a vote.

It takes 60 votes to shut off a filibuster, and the poll showed that Senate leaders were within reach of being able to muster those votes but only after the legislation is fully debated.

A total of 53 senators favor or are leaning toward limiting debate, including seven opponents of the bill, with another 10 considered definite possibilities.

But the survey also showed that the known and likely opponents of the legislation outnumber its probable backers by a 45-28 margin at present. This means the sponsors would need to add virtually all of the 19 Democrats and six Republicans now listed as undecided in order to secure Senate passage.

The bill's chances may be slightly better than the numbers indicate. Most of those undecided have generally backed federal programs to meet domestic problems and a number of senators appear unaware of the stiff requirements the pending bill would impose on New York.

However, if the legislation passes both houses, the solid opposition of 35 senators would appear to doom it on the final showdown on whether to override Ford's promised veto. Furthermore, House leaders do not yet see a majority in that chamber in favor of initial passage.

There were these other items on the congressional calendar:

Ohio's Voters Scheduled To Go To Polls Tuesday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — After listening for more than a month to a million dollar advertising blitz, voters finally will have their chance to speak Tuesday — with the only voice that counts.

Ohioans will decide whether Gov. James A. Rhodes' $4.5 billion economic recovery package, the most ambitious bond package ever put before American voters, becomes part of the state's constitution.

The governor promotes Issues 2, 3, 4 and 5 as a "Blueprint for Ohio," the means by which Ohio can provide jobs for its citizens while working to trim welfare costs and rising crime rates.

Opponents maintain the plan is a "blueprint for disaster," the seed of a potential fiscal calamity.

The issues provide tax abatements for new or expanding industries, set up a mechanism for a state-assisted home building program and call for selling $4.5 billion in general obligation bonds for capital improvements, highways and aid to cities and villages.

They would hike the state gasoline tax from 7 cents per gallon to 7.9 cents and raise the state sales tax from 4 cents on the dollar to 4.7 cents.

The governor says that the tax increases are a small price to pay for the new industry and jobs which will be created.

Opponents maintain the governor has understated the costs of the program while exaggerating its benefits.

Voters must also decide the fate of five proposed constitutional amendments put on the ballot by the General Assembly.

Issues 6 and 7 were proposed by the secretary of state to simplify the task of holding elections. They would eliminate the so-called "bed-sheet ballot" in presidential primaries and ease the present requirements for rotating candidates' names on ballots.

Issue 1 would allow recreational land to be valued for tax purposes according to its present use instead of its potential use.

Issue 8 would allow state financial assistance to the two government-created railroad companies, Amtrak and ConRail.

Issue 9 would legalize charitable bingo.

Voters throughout the state also face ballot choices on mayors, councilmen and school levies.

Cleveland voters will decide who leads the nation's 10th largest city for the next two years. Mayor Ralph J. Perk is seeking his third term. He is opposed by Arnold R. Pinkney, president of the Cleveland Board of Education.

In Cincinnati, meanwhile, the Charter-Democrat coalition is attempting to retain control of city council in the third straight election.

The coalition faces a determined challenge from Republicans, who hope to capitalize on Democratic city hall scandals to win five of the nine council seats.

Rural Counties To Pay Heavily For Capital Improvements

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rural counties will be paying heavily for planned capital improvements in urban areas under the governor's $2.75 billion city and villages proposal, a fiscal analysis has shown.

The analysis, which compared the amount of money counties will get in block grants as opposed to what they can expect to pay in increased taxes, also disclosed wide variances in per capita amounts the counties will receive.

Lucas County, for example, would receive $200.34 per person living in the county, while Geauga County would receive $15.87 per person.

The analysis was done on Issue 5, one of four proposals put on the ballot by Gov. James A. Rhodes as an economic recovery package. The issue calls for borrowing $2.75 billion to finance capital improvements and for block grants to cities and villages.

Of the total, $1.42 billion would go to the city and village grants under a set formula, with $200 million more in direct grants to be divided according to need. The total package is funded by a seven-tenths of a cent increase in the state's four-cent sales tax.

The fiscal analysis of the issue was done by the Akron Beacon Journal using grant figures released by proponents, 1970 census figures and county retail sales figures.

The analysis indicates that large cities are heavily favored in the grant program, both in the amount they will receive per capita and the amount of their tax money which would be returned.

But even the largest cities would recover no more than 22 per cent of the amount they pay in increased taxes, the study shows.

Chan Cochran, the governor's administrative assistant, declined to comment specifically on the figures, saying he couldn't be sure they were accurate.

He noted generally, however, that the urban areas of the state have the most problems, and suggested it would be in the best interests of rural counties "not only to help detain or contain those problems, but to decrease them."

He also said other capital improvements funded by the issue, such as cancer clinics and parks, would benefit a large area, not just the county where they are located.

The fiscal analysis concerned itself only with the grant program and did not take into account those projects funded by the other $1.13 billion.

The sales tax revenues used for the analysis included only the seven-tenths of a cent increase and were based on retail sales figures for each county.

The projection assumed a five per cent growth rate per year. State tax experts have predicted a 7.5 per cent growth rate per year, and that figure would increase the total amount of tax paid.

The state's 10 smallest counties would receive in direct grants an average of only 7.3 per cent of what they paid in extra taxes, the study shows. Those counties are Vinton, Noble, Morgan, Monroe, Harrison, Adams, Pike, Paulding, Meigs and Hocking.

By comparison, the state's 10 largest counties would receive an average of 16.5 per cent of their increased sales tax payments back in direct grants. Those counties are Cuyahoga, Hamilton, Franklin, Montgomery, Summit, Lucas, Stark, Mahoning, Lorain and Trumbull.

In terms of the amount of the county grant per individual resident, the 10 smallest counties also fare poorly.

They would receive an average of $41.14 per capita, compared to an average of $160.52 per capita in the 10 largest counties.

Gauga County would receive the least under the program because 52,984 of its 62,977 residents live outside incorporated areas. The grants are based strictly on city and village population, and provide nothing for persons outside those limits.

Gauga would receive only $999,300 in grants, although its residents would pay $37.8 million in increased sales taxes over the 30-year life of the bonds. It would get back only 2.6 per cent of the amount it pays.

Gauga would receive only $15.87 per capita under the grant program. Clermont County would be in a similar situation, receiving only $17.77 per person in grants and getting back only 2.6 per cent of the $64.9 million it would pay in increased sales tax.

By contrast, Lucas County would receive $200.34 per person under the grant program because most of its residents live in incorporated areas.

Lucas' return of $97 million would be 20.2 per cent of the $479.2 million it would pay in increased sales tax over the 30 years.

Cuyahoga County would receive $189.06 per capita in grants, or 21.7 per cent of the $1.5 billion its 1.7 million residents would pay through the sales tax increase.

Both Cuyahoga and Lucas counties also are scheduled to receive improvements under the other provisions of the total issue. Each county would get a new cancer clinic and both would be eligible for port and harbor improvements.

The governor also has promised Cuyahoga County residents the county will get an expansion of the Cleveland heart clinic, a new office building, vocational education buildings and money for the Western Reserve Historical Society.

If those promises are fulfilled, the county could get back 36 cents of every extra dollar it would pay.

The per county breakdown of the grants is shown below. The first column, given in dollars and cents, shows the amount of grant per person, based on 1970 census figures.

The second column, given in millions of dollars, shows projected sales tax revenues from the seven-tenths of a cent sales tax increase, based on total retail spending figures from each county and assuming an annual growth rate of five per cent.

The third column shows the percentage of the tax paid which comes back to the county in grants.

RETIREMENT — J. W. Eshelman & Sons honored Dudley J. Carpenter recently for his service to the company. Pictured are, from the left, Ed Nelson, who served as toastmaster at the retirement dinner; Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter, and Lowell Judd, who highlighted the program by recounting the many contributions made by Carpenter to the feed industry.

Retirement Banquet Held For Dudley Carpenter

Nearly a half century of employment at John W. Eshelman & Sons, a division of Carnation, ended Oct. 31 with the official retirement of Dudley J. Carpenter, general manager.

He joined the firm as a plant laborer in 1930. A retirement banquet was held recently at the Ramada Inn South, honoring his 45 years service.

Ed Nelson served as toastmaster, humorously inducting "Carp" into the feed industry hall of fame. Various items were retired with replacements being presented by representatives from management, sales, office force, and store managers, all of whom were in attendance.

Also attending were: John and Howard Eshelman of Lancaster, Pa.; Gene McKoy, general manager of the Tampa, Florida plant; Ray Benner, general manager of the Chamblee, Georgia plant; Owen Robertson, general manager of the Sanford, North Carolina plant; and Tom Thompson, general manager of the plant in York, Pa.

The evening concluded with Lowell Judd, general manager of the Eastern Division highlighting the many contributions made by Carpenter to the feed industry and presenting Carpenter and his wife Mary with a retirement trip to Hawaii in behalf of the Carnation Company. Carpenters retirement plans include travel, golf, fishing and horseback riding.

Officials have said the present county home, built in 1869, violates 19 state fire and building codes and could be closed at any time.

The county-wide issue proposes a 1.7 mill levy to finance construction of a new $2.4 million home.

Supporters note the new structure would be cheaper to operate because it would meet federal Medicaid standards and qualify for federal funding. The old home does not.

A Page Of Opinion

SEATO's Demise

Born 21 years ago under conditions similar to those which produced the North Atlantic Treaty Organization earlier, the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization has decided to call it quits. Sec. of State Kissinger has joined in a phase-out agreement with the foreign ministers of the other SEATO members, Britain, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand and the Philippines, which will close the doors of the alliance within two years. Despite earnest efforts in its earlier years to make SEATO into a strong mutual defense association in a theater of the world not covered by NATO's umbrella, SEATO never measured up to expectations. Although its emphasis in recent years had changed from military preparedness to economic and cultural ties, several of its members already had pulled out of many of its activities unilaterally. So the formal closedown in operations is a bit like boarding up a summer resort after all the tourists have gone home. The framework of experience will remain behind in case future events dictate its revival, but for most meaningful purposes the organization long ago ceased to exist.

At His Word

By JIM BISHOP

When Muhammad Ali is serious, he's as candid as a baby's stare. And easily as intelligent. Now, in a long interview for Playboy magazine, he paints himself gaudily, I believe, as anti-Caucasian and anti-American. Speaking of blacks in the United States, Ali states: "We can't be free until we get our own land and our own country in North America. When we separate from America and take maybe ten states, then we'll be free. Free to make our own laws, set our own taxes, have our own courts, our own judges, our own schoolrooms, our own currency, our own passports."

The white people helped Ali to earn about $10 million in the past few years. That is not enough. If the U.S. doesn't want to surrender ten of our states to the blacks, Ali feels the whites should stake the blacks to building a country of their own in Africa, and to support it for 25 years.

As a Black Muslim, which is to the Moslem religion what Adam was as a relative of Hitler, Muhammad believes that this country will be punished by God.

"America don't have no future! America's going to be destroyed! Allah's going to divinely chastise America! Violence, crimes, earthquakes — there's goint to be all kinds of trouble . . ."

"America's day is over — and if it doesn't do justice to the black man and separate, it gonna burn! . . . We want our own nation. We're 25 million black people — there's a lot of Negroes in America, you know."

"Man, there's only about 10 million people in Cuba, and when they tell America to stay out, America stays out. They're just a few million but they got their own nation and can get away with it."

The champion isn't jiving. He's levelling with us. "When I think about white people, it's like there's a thousand rattlesnakes outside my door and maybe a hundred of them want to help me. But they all look alike, so should I open my door and hope that the hundred who want to help me will keep the other 900 off me when only one bite will kill me?"

To Playboy interviewer Lawrence Linderman, Ali became even more explicit: " . . . once a man knows what freedom is, he's not satisfied even being the president of your country. And, as Allah is my witness, I'd die today to prove it. If I could be president of the U.S. tomorrow and do what I can to help my people, or be in an all-black country of 25 million Negroes and my job would be to put garbage in a truck, I'd be a garbage man."

Muslim women, he said, cover their bodies and humble themselves to Allah. Young women in American society "parade their bodies in all them freak clothes — miniskirts and pants suits . . ."

To my way of thinking, Ali's philosophy is viciously naive, arrogating to the blacks all of the virtues, and to the whites all of the vices. If I were multi-millionaire Muhammad Ali, I would spurn the white man's money in boxing and in business.

He refused to shape up for the army draft, but is forgiven by those who believe he is the greatest fighter in history. He is a superb boxer, but, in their primes, I think Jack Dempsey, Jack Johnson, Rocky Marciano and Joe Louis could flatten him.

Once, when he was Cassius Clay, I was invited to his house in Miami for an interview. It was a small place. Sitting on a couch in the living room I could watch his first wife cooking dinner. He did not introduce her.

This was before he became a bucketmouth. He impressed me as a man with little formal education, but equipped with strong native intelligence. White men had sent him to the Olympics and he had returned a champion. He proposed to promote that gold medal into a lot of money.

It was done because the United States is still the land of unlimited opportunity. If he proposes to go to Africa, I would like to get him a one-way ticket . . .

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: While The Herald encourages open comments from its readers, the opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the management. Letters to the editor must be signed and should be of 300 words or less.

Dear Editor:

As concerned parents and taxpayers, we are vitally interested in the forthcoming Circleville School Board Election. We believe our school system can be better than it is. While fiscal responsibility is a goal to be commended, the needs of our students and teachers in our school system have been neglected. An open mind and a willingness to seek a better way are not to be considered a threat to quality education. Rather, the challenge of our changing community needs in education can open doors to a superior school system, instead of just a good one.

We think the present school board has rubber-stamped consistently the policies of our present superintendent. We need to remember that the superintendent is an employee of the school board rather than the reverse. It seems to us that the school board should be truly representative of all people in the community.

We intend to support John Farthing for the Circleville Board of Education on Nov. 4. John Farthing has proven himself to be an intelligent, informed, and objective person who will serve for the benefit of all people in our community instead of the select few who have perpetuated themselves in power year after year.

CHARLES HOSTERMAN
LUCY HOSTERMAN

Dear Editor:

After I retired from the Circleville Board of Education in 1972, having served for 20 years, I made a solemn resolution that I would no longer involve myself in school matters, leaving the field to fresher minds. However, I found Mr. Wylie's recent letter both misleading and irresponsible, and I feel that I must correct some of his misconceptions.

During my tenure under the present school administration his "lighted school policy" was pursued with diligence. His summer courses for regular students were tried several summers. Both programs met with resounding lack of interest making them economically unfeasible. Remedial summer courses are presently offered, and our buildings are made available to the YMCA for their night adult programs.

The present school administration has always striven to improve the curriculum and has always been open to innovation when it has proven economically sound.

Contrary to what Mr. Wylie indicated, when sufficient student interest has been shown to merit the financial investment, such enrichment courses as mythology and third and fourth year Latin have been offered. Four years of art is presently offered and four years of Latin, Spanish, and French have been available for some time depending on student interest. Drama has always been taught and a music appreciation course has been recently added.

The present board and administration of our schools do not "deprive those who seek knowledge and cultural advancement by obscuring a lack of interest with the worn cloak of fiscal responsibility as Mr. Wylie suggests, but has continually upgraded our program as much as fiscal responsibility would dictate. Without the prerequisite of fiscal responsibility no upgrading is possible.

I'm quite sure our two incumbent board members, Mr. Elsea and Mr. Liggett, who are now seeking reelection, subscribe to this policy and I sincerely hope that we retain such responsibility on our board and do not substitute irresponsibility for it.

Definition Of Death Pondered

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A bill to legally redefine death in Ohio has been proposed by two state legislators who believe "cessation of brain function" should be added to existing criteria. Reps. Scribner L. Fauver, R-54 Elyria, and Robert A. Nader, D-55 Warren, said the current definition is "ambiguous and outdated in light of the new life-saving support systems available to us."

Their legislation, filed Friday, would permit a physician to certify death when the brain stops functioning on an irreversible basis and life support systems are being used to maintain breathing and heartbeat.

"This bill would legally redefine death," Fauver said. "It does not allow euthanasia or mercy killing."

Under the bill, he said a doctor would have been allowed to declare as dead "an irreversibly injured young man" who lived for several days with the aid of life support systems in Elyria earlier this month. The boy died Oct. 11 while the support system was still operating.

"However," Fauver added, "the Quinlan case as we understand it, would not allow a doctor to certify death under our bill because the fact that the Quinlan girl has some reflex responses and brain waves would not meet the criteria of irreversible brain function (cessation)."

Henry L. Doherty, 1875-1939, who built up the Cities Service Co., started as a newsboy in his native Columbus, Ohio.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

About three times a year my face suddenly becomes swollen on the left side. This happens after I eat something spicy or tart. It lasts for a few days, then disappears so I'm not too worried about it. Can this be dangerous?

Mrs. N. M., Penn

Dear Mrs. M.:

The fact that it comes and goes is the best indication that it is not a serious condition and that it is not dangerous.

What you describe is rather typical of some obstruction of the tiny tube that carries saliva from one of the salivary glands into the mouth.

There are three such glands on each side of the face. The largest one, the parotid, is the gland in front of the ear. This is the one that becomes swollen in children who have mumps. There are two other salivary glands, one beneath the jaw and the other, under the chin.

Occasionally, a tiny stone, usually composed of calcium or uric acid, forms in the gland or in the tube. It may act like a ball valve and block the tube.

When this happens, saliva dams back and the gland becomes swollen. When the obstruction disappears and free flow of saliva returns, the swelling disappears.

There are some excellent tests done with dyes and X-rays. Stones, infections and inflammations can be determined and in many instances, the cause eliminated.

My mother, at 77, cannot remember any instructions or explanations for more than five minutes. Yet she can recall the most minute things that happened to her when she was a child. Are there any drugs that can help her?

Mrs. T. W., Fla.

Dear Mrs. W.:

There are few more distressing conditions than the early loss of memory for both the affected persons and the people around them.

Almost always, this condition is due to arteriosclerotic changes in the blood vessels. The subsequent narrowing of the arteries reduces the free flow of blood to the brain and affects the memory center.

It demands kindness and understanding in dealing with persons who are so afflicted.

It is unreasonable and unproductive to become angry or irritable, even though it may tax the patience of those in immediate contact with such people.

It is a source of comfort to know that there is extensive research into drugs for reactivating memory centers.

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — President Ford's plan to permit a New York City financial default rather than commit the federal government to a loan guarantee program conceivably could produce some of the very effects he seeks to avoid.

The intent of the Ford effort is to isolate the New York City problem and avert making it a responsibility of citizens elsewhere in the nation. It seeks to avoid a direct federal involvement.

But some members of the financial community suggest it could spread rather than restrict the ailment and that it might eventually force the federal government into making guarantees.

The issue seems to have become so complex as to transcend political and philosophic points of view. Some financial men preface their remarks with expressions of sympathy with the President's intent but wonder if it can achieve its goals.

Talks with bond dealers and analysts make clear their concern about even further damage to the keystone of the municipal market, the "full faith and credit" guarantee of repayment on general obligations bonds.

Fears that this sacrosanct principle was being abandoned already has caused a substantial rise in borrowing costs for hundreds of municipalities throughout the country. An added threat now seems to exist.

Under the Ford plan a new chapter would be added to the federal bankruptcy law to permit municipalities to default without first obtaining approval of 51 per cent of bondholders.

It would also seek to create debt certificates to meet the short-term needs of the city in default, and holders of these certificates apparently would possess a stronger claim to repayment than even the original bondholders.

The question arises of whether a market can exist under such conditions.

"Destroy full faith and credit and what do you have?" asked Brenton Harries, president of Standard & Poor's, which rates most municipal bonds. He attributes the higher prices municipalities must pay today to a deterioration of confidence in that concept.

The Ford plan of permitting the city to default, if need be, runs into further obstacles because of an abundance of laws and regulations and codicils that prevent trustees of funds from investing in a city in default.

Chicken Output Rises In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Increased broiler production will mean more chickens in Ohio for the next few years, according to Paul Clayton, Ohio State University extension agent.

Clayton attributes the 50 per cent increase in broiler production since 1971 to several economic and regional factors that have made broilers better business for Ohio farmers.

Clayton said mechanization and increased size of production units has reduced the importance of labor in the broiler operation. Inexpensive housing is no longer a factor promoting increased production in warmer climates, Clayton said, since farmers must protect the birds from heat as well as cold.

Bank Bandit Still In Cardiac Unit

CLEVELAND (AP) — A doctor at Metropolitan General Hospital says it may be a few days before bank robber Edward Watkins is moved out of the hospital's cardiac unit.

However, some police and FBI agents say they are less concerned about Watkins' heart than they are about a possible escape attempt by the 56-year-old ex-convict who held six hostages in a West Side bank for 20 hours last week before freeing them and surrendering.

Police said they were skeptical of Watkins' claims of ill health because he has faked illness in the past as an escape ruse.

Dr. Martin Broder, head of the hospital's cardiac care unit, said Saturday Watkins had suffered "a mild heart attack sometime in the last 72 hours." The doctor said Watkins might be able to fake chest pains but couldn't fake electrocardiogram or blood tests.

Watkins is under police watch while he is in the cardiac unit, where his heart is monitored constantly.

Broder said Watkins told him he had a heart attack five years ago, that he was treated three weeks ago at Los Angeles County Hospital under the alias Larry Baxter and later was admitted to Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital.

The doctor quoted the convicted bank robber as saying he signed himself out of Hollywood Presbyterian, ignoring doctors' advice, and drove across the country despite frequent chest pains.

Watkins was listed in fair condition at Metro General Sunday, but Dr. Broder said that like any other patient with a history of heart disease he "potentially is in danger."

Federal authorities are expected to hold a hearing for Watkins at his hospital bed Tuesday on parole violation charges.

Watkins, who has spent 34 years in prisons, was released last June from a federal penitentiary in Atlanta, Ga., after he served eight years of a 45-year sentence for bank robbery.

Federal authorities say that six weeks after he was paroled in custody of an Idaho physician, Watkins robbed a Los Angeles bank. The FBI said that was his 14th bank job.

His attempt to rob a Society National Bank branch on Cleveland's West Side Wednesday was thwarted when a teller hit a silent alarm. Watkins then forced his hostages into a back room and held police at bay with the threat of blowing the bank and the hostages up with a dynamite bomb. The bomb turned out to be a fake.

The FBI filed bank robbery charges against Watkins Friday, and Cleveland police added aggravated robbery and kidnapping charges Saturday.

Probe Of Police Set At Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati City Manager William Donaldson announced Sunday that he will meet with the FBI and other federal officials today regarding accusations of misconduct made against Police Chief Carl Goodin and three other top officers.

The charges, made in an anonymous letter to members of Cincinnati's media, included contentions that vice law enforcement is being ignored, that money is being passed to the chief through the vice squad and that on-duty police personnel are being used to work on Goodin's property in Kentucky.

Goodin labled The Cincinnati Enquirer "very irresponsible" for printing the letter.

He refuted the accusation that he used department personnel to renovate his vacation property in Corinth, Ky.

Donaldson said he has instructed Goodin through Deputy City Manager Henry Sandman not to discuss any of the charges with the media.

Cincinnati City Councilman Guy Guckenberger, who said he received a copy of the letter, said he is willing to authorize whatever is necessary to keep the police department above suspicion.

"I've been pro-police all my life but that means I have to be consistent, no matter how much it hurts," he said.

"Chief Goodin has been a straight arrow and his record has reflected that. The plans for the investigation do not in any way mean that we believe the charge," Guckenberger said.

The letter asked the dismissal of Goodin, Assistant Chief Embry Grimes and two unidentified captains, who used their positions to their gain. Grimes called the accusations "terrible" and said there "is no truth to them."

Emergency Service Vote Slated

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP) — The fate of southeastern Ohio's first professional emergency services unit lies with voters Tuesday as they decide whether to pay for the services after federal money runs out.

Voters in Gallia, Athens, Lawrence and Jackson will make the decision on tax levies intended to fund the operations of the Southeastern Ohio Emergency Medical Service (SEOEMS).

The unit, which provides emergency ambulance service with professional medical technicians in seven counties, runs out of federal funds on Dec. 31.

The service was started in 1973 with a $5.3 million federal grant as a pilot project to demonstrate how ambulance services meeting federal standards could serve a rural area.

Dr. William H. Allen, president of the Ohio Valley Health Services Foundation and chairman of the Athens County Campaign committee supporting the tax levies, said the ambulance service has saved lives. He said its loss would return the region to the "dark ages" in terms of emergency service.

Statistics compiled by the service show an ambulance rolls within two minutes of receipt of an emergency call at the Gallipolis headquarters. Average travel time to the emergency site anywhere in the seven counties is 8.9 minutes.

Allen said that besides the speed, the professional training given the technicians also is saving lives.

"We are no longer getting persons at a hospital hurt worse than they were in an accident," he said.

The tax levies are being supported by civic groups, service organizations, medical societies and funeral directors.

The funeral directors provided emergency service before SEOEMS began operations, but say they can't afford to resume the service if the levies fail.

They say they will continue to provide routine hospital transfer runs for ill people, but not the emergency service.

The levies on the ballots are a four-tenths of a mill property tax levy in Gallia County, one-mill levies in Athens and Lawrence counties and a 1.5 mill levy in Jackson County.

The Lawrence County levy lost in an election last year by nine votes. The Jackson County levy was defeated by less than 300 votes.

Hocking County voters have approved a tax levy to cover their share of the service cost, while Vinton and Meigs counties have promised to provide funds from other sources.

See Collapse Of Oil Cartel

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Indiana University economist Richard Farmer predicts a collapse of the oil-producing export cartel.

This will drive oil prices back toward 1973 levels, Farmer said Friday. He said he expects one of the major oil-producing countries to work itself into a deep balance of payments deficit and be forced to undercut prices.

Farmer said he expects oil prices to tumble at least $2 and maybe $6 a barrel on the international market. Oil is selling for $11 to $14 a barrel now.

Derby Gardeners Learn About Daffodils

Miss Lura Emig presented an interesting program on Daffodils at the October 27th meeting of the Derby Garden Club.

She also showed slides assembled by Mrs. Gripso, an active central Ohio member of the American Daffodil Society. Miss Emig recommended that bulbs be purchased from a reputable dealer.

She said "A good bulb has a flower in it when it is sold for fall planting." Daffodils should be planted in September or anytime until the ground freezes. Most root growth is done in fall or early winter. Bulbs of normal size should be planted about 6 inches deep. Plantings should appear to be in a natural setting grown with other flowers.

The president, Lois Rouff, mentioned the fall meeting of the Pickaway County Council of Garden Club scheduled for December 3, 1-3 p.m. at the Historical Center, Circleville. Theme will be Christmas Heritage.

Delegates to the November 7 meeting of Region 9 at Reynoldsburg will be Lois Rouff, Jane Vance, Gerry McPherson, Virginia Brokamp and Martha Buller. Jeanne Spring, chairman of the Christmas flower show, for the November 24th meeting discussed the schedule. 1975-1976 program books were distributed to members. Betty Caudill and Gerry McPherson showed members how to make straw wreaths which can be decorated and used many seasons of the year.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Speaks Dog Language

DEAR ABBY: Do you believe that dogs can understand human language? My sister, Carol, insists that they can. At least she says her poodle can.

Carol went on a three-week vacation and left "Pisher" in a kennel. When she returned she said Pisher was so furious with her that he wouldn't look her in the face for five days.

Carol took the dog in her arms, and said he turned his head away. Then she said, "If I promise never to put you in a kennel again, will you forgive me?"

She claims the poodle looked at her with love and understanding and actually nodded his head as if to say, "Yes, I forgive you." Then nuzzled her and started to lick her hand to show his appreciation and affection.

Carol says she knows that Pisher understood every word she said, and she'll never put him in a kennel again because she promised she wouldn't.

Can you believe this? Or do you think my sister is a nut?

ESTHER IN HARTFORD
DEAR ESTHER: When it comes to dog lovers, I can believe anything.

DEAR ABBY: Rick and I were both underage and needed our parents' signatures to get married. (I was pregnant at the time, but after we got married I lost the baby.)

We couldn't afford a place of our own, so we lived with my parents. It was okay for about three months, then Rick decided it would be better if I lived with my parents and he went back and lived with his.

Abby, I don't like this arrangement at all. Rick has started to run around with his friends like he did before we were married. I'm afraid he's got another girl.

He keeps telling me that as soon as he can afford it we will get a place of our own, but I don't believe he really wants one.

He comes to see me maybe once a week for an hour, and then he takes off. I just sit and cry. Please help me. I don't feel married anymore.

MISERABLE
DEAR MISERABLE: Married people belong together. If you can't afford a place of your own, you should live with your parents or Rick's. This way, you have no marriage, dear. Tell Rick it's either-or. His answer will tell you what to do.

DEAR ABBY: I identified with the fellow who preferred not to broadcast the line of work he was in.

I am a Roman Catholic priest, and every time I get to a town where I'm not known, I take off my collar and put on a sport shirt.

I'm not trying to get away with anything, but the minute people (especially Catholics) spot me in my Roman collar, they corner me and start to tell me their troubles.

FDA Studying Problems Caused By Plastic Canning Lids

By BEVERLY BECHTEL
Home Extension Agent

Now that most canners are stored for the winter, concerns and problems which arose during the summer are still being investigated. One recent memo from the Food and Drug Administration included much information concerning new lids, especially plastic ones, on the market. The following is an excerpt from a recent FDA memo:

"Any home canning closing technique or closures that have not been scientifically proven should be avoided. If there is any question about suitability of a particular closure on the market or an unusual technique being recommended either in newspapers, magazines, books, or from write-in ads in newspapers or periodicals, which are not in agreement with USDA Home and Garden Bulletin No. 8, such techniques should not be used.

Examples of questionable products and procedures are given below which were encountered in one or more district offices and about which you may have inquiries.

Most inquiries have concerned a plastic lid or insert which is lined with a sealing compound. It is suggested for use with any screw ring as a replacement for the normal established metal lids used with metal screw rings that have been sold and used successfully for many years. From use of the plastic lid, there have been complaints of "hard swells" (a non-concave appearance) immediately after processing. With this lid, the carton insert implies FDA approval of the plastic insert, which is incorrect, since we have definitely not approved this particular product. The manufacturer is revising the insert to remove this incorrect inference, however, a number of lids (approximately 5 to 10 million) have been made with this statement enclosed in the retail package. The appearance of "hard swells" or convex ends may cause consumer confusion since they may not be spoiled, and may result in possible use of potentially dangerous food products if a "hard swell" appearance is considered normal. Acceptance of "hard swells" with the plastic lids could also lead to use of potentially health hazardous products in the two-piece all metal closures showing "hard swells," which definitely should never be consumed.

Furthermore, permeability of the plastic material may allow oxygen to enter and cause deteriorative product oxidation affecting both quality and appearance. Therefore, we have doubts of adequacy particularly for low acid pressure canned foods."

Flag, Banner Carriers Add Color To WHS Band

By BRIDGET ELLIOTT

The Marching Mustangs have added a new section to the band — flag and banner carriers. The flag carriers were selected at a tryout in May of last school year. The banner carriers were selected at this time also. The flag carriers are Linda Arledge, Nancy Boyle, Willa Coleman, captain; Dawn Corbin, Beth Hix, Paula Horn, Julie Ogle, and Linda Pell.

The banner carriers are Cathy Cochran and Lisa Oty. They participated in summer parades and attended band camp in August. Their summer advisor was John Dowler and the advisor for this school year is Patricia Bethard, who is also the choir director.

When Jim Kibby, Mustang band director was asked his opinion of the flag carriers he replied, "They are eight hard working girls who have contributed color and pageantry to the band."

Willa Coleman, a sophomore, is the captain of the flags and lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Coleman in Williamsport.

Linda Arledge, a freshman, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Arledge of Five Points.

Nancy Boyle, also a freshman, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boyle of Route 1, Orient.

Dawn Corbin is a senior and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Corbin of Route 3, Orient.

Beth Hix, a freshman, is the daughter of Mr. Ed Hix and Mrs. Marvin Nance. She lives with her mother at Route 3, Mt. Sterling.

Paula Horn, a sophomore, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Horn of Route 3, Orient.

Julie Ogle, is a sophomore and the daughter of Mr. Ned Ogle of Route 1, Mt. Sterling.

Linda Pell, is also a sophomore and lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Pell of Route 3, Orient.

Cathy Cochran, is a banner carrier and a senior. She lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cochran at Route 3, Orient.

Lisa Oty, is also a banner carrier and a sophomore. She lives with her parents Mr. and Mrs. William Oty at Route 3, Orient.

There's no doubt about it! The flag and banner carriers add something to Westfall's mighty band. It also proves that the Marching Mustangs get better day by day.

PRVC Print Class Learns By Experience

By VICKIE WILKEY

Westfall students attending PRVC were surprised at the number of machines in their printing class. Who would believe that there were so many machines for one class? Instead of taking a negative attitude of working the machines, they decided to experiment.

Mr. Bell, the printing class advisor, explained the procedure when using the machines. The students found they must be alert in order to prevent an accident which could prove to be very costly and damaging. Machines for this class were donated by printing shops that have ceased operations. Headliners, different size cameras, duplicating machines, and presses are some of the machines the students are using.

Students are obtaining experience in this field by making pamphlets for hospitals, clubs and the Law Enforcement Classes at PRVC. The only charge for their service is for the supplies used. As a result of the students' work, they will be permitted to make their own graduation announcements.

The two years the students spend in this field will equal one year of apprenticeship. This will allow students to work as an apprentice.

The Westfall students involved in this class are Becky Snyder, Maria Thomas, Debbie Hyer, Pam Cook, and Jeri Pennington.

Science Club Tours COSI

By EMILIE CALDWELL

The Science Club toured COSI (Center of Science and Industry) in Columbus Oct. 22. Forty-one students and advisors, Miss Wilkerson and Mrs. Hatfield participated in this activity. The students spend the afternoon viewing and operating the various exhibits. Among some of the more interesting exhibits were the Presidents Exhibit, the Street of Yesteryear, Man and Medicine, and the Coal Mine.

However, the field trip was almost ruined on the way to COSI by a blowout. Fortunately, with the skill of Daisy Rowland behind the wheel of the bus, the group made it safely to COSI and back to Westfall.

The students enjoyed the educational afternoon and plans are being made for future field trips.

Art Teacher Is Featured

MRS. MARIANNE WOOD

By SHIRLEY FIELDS

This week's teacher feature at Westfall High is Art teacher, Mrs. Marianne Wood. Mrs. Wood lives at 145 West Union Street in Circleville with her husband James Michael, better known as "Woody," and their daughter Amy.

Mrs. Wood's hobbies are reading, art, jogging and people watching. She likes good weather, good food, and friendly faces. Her main dislikes are dreary days and not having enough time to do the things she likes to do. Mrs. Wood graduated from Capital University with a BS degree in Art.

In her art classes, Mrs. Wood would like to initiate enthusiasm to try new techniques of art and maintain a flexible curriculum so that students can advance or fully develop potential in a given art medium.

New art courses offered at Westfall are commercial design, Jewelry design, fashion design, and textile design. Students are then able to choose an area of interest and then do a complete study.

Mrs. Wood's opinion of Westfall is that "the students and administration are friendly and down to earth."

Mustang Country would like to extend a warm welcome to Mrs. Wood, as a newly-added member to the WHS faculty.

Pledge Is Minuteman Topic

By THE WESTFALL BICENTENNIAL MINUTEMAN

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, And to the republic for which it stands, One nation under God, indivisible with liberty and justice for all."

When this oath was first spoken, how proud the American people must have felt as they first spoke these words. They were swearing an oath of allegiance to one of the most important symbols of our country — the flag.

Many years ago people recited these words with a sense of pride. But through the years, something has happened. Some people recite the oath without really meaning it. To them it is only an exercise of speech and memorization. What has happened to the respect and pride that they should feel?

In 31 words, this oath expresses some basic ideas. It expresses the ideas of freedom and equality. And perhaps the most important idea of all, that we are a nation who believes in God. It is through this belief, our faith in mankind, and the many opportunities that our country provides for us, that we will remain a country that cannot be divided.

Hocking Technical College Constructs 3 New Buildings

Ground will be broken formally for three new buildings totaling $3.25 million at Hocking Technical College today.

The ceremony will mark the beginning of Construction Phase II of the college's master plan which will eventually include 14 buildings on the 252-acre site, Hocking Tech President Dr. John J. Light announced.

Among guests attending the groundbreaking will be State Rep. Claire "Buzz" Ball and Dr. Max Lerner, vice chancellor for two-year campuses for the Ohio Board of Regents, as well as the college trustees, student representatives, staff and architect and construction representatives.

The buildings, which will be constructed concurrently and are expected to be completed by late spring, 1977, include a two-story classroom addition, a natural resources building and a student recreation center. A. J. Conway of Turner Construction Co. of Columbus is project manager.

Designed by Raymond E. Johnson of Kellam and Smith, Architects-Planners of Columbus, the buildings total more than 60,000 square feet and increase by nearly two-thirds the college's building area, Light said.

The new construction is designed to accommodate a student population of 1,500 which the college already surpassed by 250 this fall. "Even with modest growth," Light predicted, "I expect we will be thinking about Phase III in the next biennium."

The present campus, which the seven-year-old college moved into last February, includes the main administration and classroom building and an auxiliary building which now houses the natural resources and engineering technologies.

Completion of Phase II construction will bring the number of Hocking Tech's buildings to seven, Light said.

The exteriors of all three new buildings will be similar in character to the present buildings which are "of a quiet, functional, contemporary design," according to the architect. They will also repeat the same red-brown brick facing and bronze tinted insulated glass in the band of windows which encircle the upper floors, Johnson said.

The classroom addition, an annex to the east end of the present main building, will also feature the recessed window line and columns in its first level which is now in the lower administrative level of the present building, Johnson said.

Much of the classroom addition will provide room for programs which have outgrown present facilities, but several new labs will be added. Among them are a broadcasting studio which will be used to train students in radio and television engineering technology. Mock emergency medical technology equipment and a lab will permit expansion of the college's new EMT program. There will also be a hotel restaurant lab which will be used in addition to the Hocking Valley Motor Lodge for training students in hotel restaurant management.

New facilities for environmental health instruction will include a weather station and laboratories for training technicians in communicable disease control in such areas as restaurants, farms, recreation areas and water supplies.

A media center with audio-visual equipment for preparation of teaching materials will provide additional teaching equipment for the staff. There will also be an auto-tutorial center, writing, math and reading labs and a staff development lab.

The natural resources building has become necessary because of the growth in the natural resources program and its enrollment. The program is the largest such program east of the Rocky Mountains, Light said.

The new building will be built west of the present main buildings where the farm house for what is now the Hocking Tech campus once stood.

It will feature a repair lab for the college's maintenance courses for small engines, power equipment, outboard motors and welding and woodworking equipment. Natural Resources Director Bill Price said the new facility will feature more specialized equipment and allow for expansion in both enrollment and course content.

A fire simulator room which features sophisticated projection techniques for teaching fire control forest protection will also be included in the building, as well as nature interpretation and wildlife labs.

The student recreation center will be built into the hillside to the east of the classroom addition. It will include a basketball, volleyball and badminton court and exercise area with a universal gym on the first level. The second level mezzanine, which will be above the exercise area and locker room, will be a lounge area with ping pong, card and pool tables and a refreshment center.

Voters To Ballot On County Changes

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Summit County voters decide Tuesday whether to reorganize their county government, abolishing the county commissioners' posts and establishing a seven-member council.

The proposal is Issue 10 on county ballots. It would provide for county-wide election of an executive administrator and two councilmen, with five more councilmen elected from districts.

Proponents argue that the issue would assure districts representation in county affairs while giving the county lawmaking powers which the commission does not have.

The issue could also serve as a vehicle for establishing a metropolitan government if voters so decide later, supporters say.

Opponents argue that the council would merely create five more political positions at taxpayer expense.

Sidney Firm Reports Increased Earnings

Mail Order Houses Posing Problems

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Commerce Director Gordon Peltier has advised consumers to be wary of mail order houses as the holiday season approaches. Peltier said mail order problems accounted for five to 10 per cent of all consumer complaints his office received last year.

He advised consumers to compare prices and quality of items, check guarantees, keep a copy of the advertisement and the company's address and always pay by check or money order, keeping a copy of the payment.

Israeli Cargo Goes Through Suez Canal

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Cargo for Israel — a load of Romanian cement in a Greek ship — has moved through the Suez Canal for the first time in at least 15 years.

The passage Sunday through the 103-mile waterway was made possible by the new Sinai accord negotiated by Secretary of State Henry Kissinger.

The 9,645-ton Olympus, which was leased to the Israeli Zim Lines, was due today at Israel's Red Sea port of Eilat, a government communique said. The ship was expected to spend several days taking on phosphate for Europe, then make the return trip back through the canal from south to north, a spokesman for the Transport Ministry said.

The Israeli Transport Ministry and the Suez Canal Authority in Egypt said they had no records of the last Israeli passage through the canal. Shipments to Israel through the waterway linking the Mediterranean and Red seas were believed common until Egypt nationalized the canal in 1956, but in 1959 Israel protested to the United Nations that Egypt was confiscating cargoes bound for Israel.

The Olympus moved under heavy security with a 20-ship convoy which sailed at dawn from Port Said, at the northern end of the canal, and entered the Gulf of Suez at sunset.

Egyptian officials barred newsmen and photographers from the canal area, saying they feared sabotage by Arab radicals or Palestinians who claim the Egyptian agreement with Israel betrayed the Arab cause. It was clear the Egyptians wanted to minimize the publicity.

Services Scheduled For Columbus Retailer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Funeral services are scheduled Tuesday for William D. Culter, drug store owner and clothing retailer who died Friday. He was 62.

A pioneer in self-service marketing and the owner of Culter's Drug Stores, he and his mother started the business in the depth of the Depression in 1932.

Cooper Fights For Series

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jackie Cooper was in a fighting mood, aiming his jabs at television critics, the networks and "The Family Hour."

His attitude was natural; he is battling for the survival of his new television series, "Mobile One." The odds seem long, but it's best not to bet against Cooper. After spending all but three of his 54 years in the show biz world, he is a master of the art of survival.

Last week, ABC moved the series from Friday to Monday nights, which Cooper fears might be shifting from frying pan to fire.

"Our show had an impossible spot on Friday," he said. "We were up against not one, but three shows that have been in the top five — 'Sanford and Son,' 'Chico and the Man' and 'M-A-S-H.'"

"But is Monday going to be any better? We'll be facing the powerhouse of 'Rhoda' and 'Phyllis' in the East and 'All in the Family' on the West Coast. We go on before the football game back there and afterward out here. And after three weeks we'll be pre-empted."

"Even with that competition, we managed to get a 20 to 22 per cent share of the audience on Friday. But if we can't start building on Monday,

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN GOOD CITY GOVERNMENT? BE SURE TO VOTE!

It is the one time we can show that we want a well-qualified person elected into our local government.

This is especially true when it comes to how our tax money is handled. The City Auditor is the chief fiscal officer in Circleville, and who is elected for that job can mean many thousands of dollars to our City.

The following are true facts. If you want verification all you have to do is stop in the City Auditor's office and look at the records. They are public information. Younger voters should be especially interested . . . because the future is in their hands!

1. MARVENE TURNER has State Examiners' reports for every State Audit since she took office in 1957. Every one of these audits shows "neat and accurate" records.

2. Every expenditure has been properly supported by Council legislation.

3. She has insisted that every financial transaction be handled correctly and legally, regardless of political affiliation.

4. She has seen that inactive funds are invested according to law. This alone will amount to more than $50,000.00 to Circleville during 1975.

MARVENE TURNER has done an outstanding job of being a conscientious caretaker of our tax dollars. She has proved her ability to handle the work. Isn't that what we want?

Atlanta Shows Signs Of Woes

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Construction cranes dominate the Atlanta skyline in defiance of a depression economy, but the city is showing warning signs of the urban ills that have afflicted New York, Newark and Detroit.

A debate is growing among community and business leaders over how ominous the symptoms are.

From the tightly knit business community have come blunt charges that Mayor Maynard Jackson is letting one of the most dynamic cities in the nation slip down the urban drain, a victim of white flight, bad schools, crime and revenue squeezes that have crippled other cities.

Yet Atlanta still is the urban envy of much of the United States. Construction cranes whirl atop $1.5 billion worth of skeleton highrises. A cylindrical, 70-story hotel wrapped in shimmering reflective glass and several sprawling office complexes are nearing completion in the downtown business district.

A 60.9 miles rapid transit system, Metropolitan Atlanta Rapid Transit Administration, is expected to be completed by 1980 at a cost currently estimated at $2.1 billion. It also is expected to generate more than 30,000 jobs, but some businessmen fear it will tear up the downtown district for years.

Only a few years ago, Atlanta was toasted as the "world's next great city." Today, Atlanta is grappling with the problems of a rapid expansion followed by a recession.

The city's problems are perhaps more serious than at any time since the tumultuous days of the civil rights movement.

In recent years, more and more whites have fled the inner core. Atlanta has gone from 38 per cent black in 1960 to 51.4 per cent today. The city's schools have gone from 70 per cent white and 30 per cent black to 15 per cent white and 85 per cent black.

Gov. George Busbee has warned that the lopsided development "is a selfish cycle in which the wealthy, white and skilled huddle together ... leaving behind them a dwindling tax digest and a lot of problems they no longer feel any compunction to solve."

Many politicians and businessmen say annexation of nearby predominantly white suburbs would expand the city's tax base.

Like many other states, Georgia requires annexation by referendum, and many suburban residents do not want consolidation because they fear higher taxes.

Some contend that a merger of the predominantly black inner city with the predominantly white suburbs would lower educational quality, a fear that was one of the major reasons many whites fled the city.

Energy Bill Work Nearly Completed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress appears to have nearly completed work on its comprehensive national energy bill, but the measure won't be used to stop court-ordered school busing.

Congress and President Ford have been at odds over the direction a national energy policy should take, and the measure that appears headed for congressional approval would not resolve the dispute. The bill takes an opposite direction to proposals by Ford, who wants a quick end to price controls.

Senate-House conferees who are writing a compromise energy program removed one obstacle Friday that could have delayed the measure's approval. The conferees killed a House amendment that would have prohibited the busing of school pupils for desegregation purposes in the interest of fuel conservation.

The amendment would have banned busing as wasteful of fuel and would have provided for penalties to service station owners who sold gasoline or diesel fuel with knowledge that it would be used for busing.

Since there was no antibusing provision in the Senate-passed bill, the House conferees' vote ended the discussion.

After killing the amendment, the conferees indicated they remain as opposed to Ford's proposed program of higher energy prices as they were when he first spelled out his plan last Jan. 15.

The Senate conferees, on a 16 to 8 party-line vote, rejected a Republican proposal to phase out oil price controls over 25 months.

Before the conferees complete work on the oil price section of the bill next week, there are expected to be other votes on other plans that would keep price controls in effect for a longer period before eventually ending them.

Such proposals probably will gain some Democratic support. But congressional aides say there is little chance the conferees will approve any plan that would not continue price controls indefinitely.

The House conferees, who are even more opposed to Ford's plan than are the senators, have yet to vote on oil prices.

If the conference committee completes work on the bill next week, the House and Senate would be expected to send the measure to Ford the week of Nov. 10 — perhaps only hours before the temporarily extended controls on oil prices expire on Nov. 15.

Ford wants to allow price controls to expire over the next 39 months. This would mean higher consumer prices for fuel, but the administration says higher prices would mean less consumption and more money for the oil industry to use to find new energy sources.

Congressional Democrats say higher fuel prices would bring more unemployment and a new round of inflation with no assurance of a greater supply of energy.

Ohio Accidents Claim 14

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A two-car crash that claimed four lives in Adams County Sunday evening helped boost Ohio's weekend traffic death toll to 14, the state Highway Patrol reported today.

The 14 deaths compared with 13 the previous weekend.

Other victims included 18-year-old William James Doyle of Cleveland, who was stopped by Columbus police for hitchhiking Saturday and was killed later that day as he tried to get a ride on Interstate 71 north of Columbus. He was one of four pedestrians killed in separate accidents over the weekend.

The patrol's count began at 6 p.m. Friday and continued through midnight Sunday.

The dead:

SUNDAY

WEST UNION — Omar W. Stephens, 50, and Fred V. Burke, 45, both of Peebles, and Dorothy E. Patrick, 75, and Irma Thomas, 52, both of West Portsmouth, in a two-car accident on Ohio 32 in Adams County.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Martin summoned a local veterinarian to check his ailing filly. After an examination the veterinarian decided to perform a minor surgical procedure. But within hours the horse was dead.

Did Martin have a good claim for damages? In a court suit he argued that the surgical procedure "must have" caused the horse's death.

However, an expert witness testified that the veterinarian had followed sound professional practice and that the treatment itself could not have been fatal. Result: case dismissed.

By and large, a veterinarian's legal obligation is merely to do competent work. Unless he makes a specific guarantee, he is not bound to produce a specific result. As one court put it:

"Negligence (cannot) be implied from the failure to effect a cure. Such failure may have arisen from inherent difficulties such as to baffle the highest degree of skill."

On the other hand a veterinarian, like anyone in the healing arts, may be held liable for a substandard performance.

In another case a veterinarian dipped four dogs, afflicted with the mange, in a chemical bath. But the bath was so strong that all four dogs perished.

In due course this veterinarian was held liable for the outcome. The court said he had not shown the "skill expected of careful and trustworthy persons in his profession."

In one unusual case a veterinarian taken care of a sick horse suddenly stopped coming, without giving the owner either a warning or an explanation. By the time the owner was able to get a substitute, the horse had taken a sharp turn for the worse.

Here too the veterinarian was held liable afterward in court. Once having agreed to treat the animal, said the court, he could not so capriciously cast off his professional responsibilities.

Wire Service Rates May Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission has refused to allow the major news services to continue a practice that enables them to cut the cost of the leased lines over which news is distributed.

The FCC, in a 6 to 0 decision Friday, noted its September ruling that the practice, called Telpak exemption, is unlawful, and it disagreed with the news services that irreparable injury would be caused unless there is a delay in halting implementation of higher rates.

American Telephone & Telegraph Co. has filed new rates to go into effect Nov. 19 in line with rates the FCC approved for private lines earlier. AT&T estimates it will cost users $6 million a year.

The new rates will increase the cost of news delivery by wire by as much as 35 per cent, depending on the size of the service in terms of outlets and their remoteness from metropolitan areas.

Ohio, with a population of 230,000, sent 1,759 officers and 24,521 men into the Army in the War of 1812.

Hang Gliding Becoming Popular

Hang gliding, a sport of ever increasing popularity, has come to the Laurelville area.

Lloyd (Doc) Rider, an enthusiast who has turned his hobby into a profession (Doc's Kites And Gliders), in searching for a hill suitable for the sport found one at the Earl DeLong farm on Route 56 southeast of Laurelville.

On a good flying day, the highway will be lined with 40 to 50 cars of people who have pulled off the road to watch the flyers launch from the top of a 250-foot hill and glide to the bottom.

Good hills are hard to find, according to Rider, so he enforces a rigid set of rules of conduct. No smoking is permitted because of the fire hazard and no drinking because of the inherent danger of the sport.

Watching the gliders soar with seemingly effortless ease, it looks like a sport that any one could enjoy. But on closer inspection, it is a sport that obviously requires skill, coordination and one in which the participant must be in excellent physical condition.

The necessity for being in tip-top shape is evident when the flyers start carrying their kites to the top of the hill. There is a lot of hard work involved in a 40-second flight.

Characteristics for which Rider is looking when he is searching for a potential hill include: facing the prevailing wind, steep enough for a good launch, long enough for a decent flight and a clear landing area. The clear landing area is a must for the beginner who cannot always control the glider as well as he would like.

Rider says there are two kinds of hang glider flyers — those who have been in trees and those who are going to get in them. "If you fly the big hills long enough you are going to land in a tree," he says.

Actually the tree top landing is not so bad, Rider says. The tough part is getting the flyer and the wing down from the tree. The kites are made of aircraft quality aluminum tubing and 3.8 ounce dacron and are very durable.

Circle Auto Parts Store Hit Sunday By Thieves

Thieves got a small amount of cash after breaking into Circle Auto Parts, 123 E. Franklin St., Sunday night.

The break-in was discovered by Circleville Police Capt. Jerry Smallwood and Ptl. David LeMaster, who noticed while on walking patrol of downtown businesses that the east door of the building was standing open at 8:45 p.m.

They summoned Ptl. Bill Pontious, Howard Fletcher and Mike Eberhard, and Sheriff's Deputies Bill Huffman and Tim Hasselbring to search the building. But the thieves had already made their escape.

The break-in occurred after 5:30 p.m., when the building was checked by other officers.

The thieves gained entry by reaching through a partially broken window on the door to grasp the inside door latch.

The rear offices were ransacked and two Savings Bank money bags containing about $100 in cash were taken.

The thieves also gained entry to the cigarette machine, soft drink machine, and cash register.

Thieves apparently took $2,400 in cash, mostly in $100 bills, from a mobile home owned by Gary Bigham, Riffle Trailer Court.

Bigham told police that the money was contained in an envelope he kept in a dresser in the bedroom.

Police Ptl. Joe Stevenson, patrolling in the city's south end Sunday, discovered that culprits broke out a window at the Corwin St. Elementary School.

The window is located on the south side of the school.

Thieves were unsuccessful in their attempt to pry open a rear door at The Herald offices, 210 N. Court St., Sunday.

Police found pry marks around the lock on the steel door.

Paul Dean of Landmark told police that vandals rolled wood fence posts around the parking lot of the store and opened two bottles of soft drinks, which were still in the dispensing machine.

Flying requires some instruction and a lot of practice. Rider learned the sport though the school of hard knocks. He got started by flying two kites over water but found this sport limited by weather conditions and wind. It must be a quiet day for good look easy. The glide down is exhilarating, but the long walk to the top of the hill requires the flyer to be in the best of physical condition.

tow kiting. The next step was in land launching.

While most central Ohio hills can provide a flight of only about a minute, the flyers travel to bigger hills in West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee. At Lookout Mountain, Tenn., where Rider has flown, a flight of about 5 minutes can be achieved.

And in Hawaii where there are steep mountains and high coastal winds, flights of several hours have been made, he says.

COMING BACK — A Circleville Tiger returns the ball while her teammate ducks out of the way in the Sectional Tournament Saturday at Groveport High School against Hamilton Twp. The Tigers downed the Rangers in the match but then lost to Bishop Ready in the tournament finals.

Circleville Spikers Eliminated In Tourney

After stopping Hamilton Twp., 15-4, 16-14, in the first match of the Sectional tournament at Groveport High School Saturday, the Tigers were eliminated from tournament play in the second game by Bishop Ready, 15-7, 15-12.

The Tigers came up with one of their best efforts of the season against Hamilton Twp. when they made 85 per cent of their spikes, 18 of 21, and had a total of 92 per cent good bumps in the match.

Nancy Radcliff, Sue Crist and Darla Hughes led a fine serving game which saw the Tigers score 64 per cent of their serves.

Circleville jumped out to a 13-7 lead but the Rangers battled back to tie it at 13 all. Linda Holveck scored a point to put the Tigers on top but once again the Rangers tied it. But, Nancy Radcliff scored two straight points to put the game away.

"I was pleased with the way our girls played the match and the power volleyball they displayed," Circleville coach Joy O'Brien. "It was the best match we have played this year."

In the second match the Tigers ran into a tall Ready team who were fine blockers and hadn't had to play since Thursday.

But, Circleville didn't play one of their better games according to coach Joy O'Brien. The Tigers spiking percentage dropped off to 58 per cent and the bumps to 81 per cent. They only converted 19 of 42 serving points for 45 per cent.

Sue Crist, Nancy Radcliff, Jane Cole and Darla Hughes led the Tigers serving game.

"I feel that the tough first match with Hamilton Twp. took a lot out of our girls and they were flat against Ready," coach Joy O'Brien. "We couldn't get our spiking game working and we failed to maintain our serves which were key factors in the match."

Circleville is now 9-4 on the season and will end the season 4:30 p.m. today when the Tigers host Madison Plains.

Tiger Reserves Lose To Lions

Circleville's reserves dropped a 20-0 decision to Washington C. H. Saturday on the Blue Lions' field. It was the season finale for the Tigers who ended the year with a mark of 6-2.

The Lions tallied six points in the first half and added 14 more in the second half. Costly penalties and mistakes by the Tigers set up the Washington tallies.

Circleville was unable to get its offense started and never did generate a real scoring threat.

Willie Horton of the Detroit Tigers led American League designated hitters in 1975 with 25 home runs.

Browns Lose To Colts

BALTIMORE (AP) — For Baltimore linebacker Stan White, it was like a dream come true. For Cleveland Coach Forrest Gregg, it was another episode in a continuing nightmare.

White, a Canton, Ohio, native passed over by Cleveland after a standout career at Ohio State, led a Colt defense that bottled up the Browns attack Sunday as Baltimore won 21-7 for its first home victory since 1973.

"The Browns passed me because they said I was too slow and too small," said White, who intercepted two passes, had 11 unassisted tackles and sacked Cleveland quarterbacks three times.

"I'm ready every week, but I was more so this week. I thought about it a lot and I really wanted to do well against the Browns to show them that they were wrong."

The triumph boosted the rebuilding Colts' mark to 3-4, topping their victory total for all of last year and marking the first time since 1971 they have been that close to .500 midway through the season.

It was also the first time since the final two games of 1973 that the Colts have won consecutive contests. They beat the New York Jets last week 45-28.

"I felt it was a big win for us for a couple of reasons," said rookie Coach Ted Marchibroda of Baltimore. "We hadn't won two in a row for a while and it was the first win at home for a lot of the players on the team."

TV Reserves Win Season Finale

Mike Fisher scored two touchdowns and Greg Prince kicked the crucial conversion to give Teays Valley's reserves a 13-12 win at Dublin Saturday.

Fisher tallied on a 3-yard run in the first quarter but Dublin returned the following kickoff 90 yards for a score. The Shamrocks added another touchdown in the second canto on an 8-yard pass play.

Fisher blasted over from the 1-yard line in the fourth stanza to gain the victory.

Dave Rece intercepted a Dublin pass on the Vikings' 15-yard line near the end of the game to kill the drive and preserve the victory.

Teays Valley finished the season with a mark of 5-1-2 overall and 5-0-2 in Metro play.

Little Tigers Top Mustangs, 30-16

Circleville's Junior High gridders built up a 24-0 lead in the first quarter and then held on to down a battling Westfall team, 30-16, Saturday on the Tigers' turf.

Danny Martin scored on a run and an intercepted pass while Mike Contino also carried into paydirt. Keith Lewis added three two-point conversions to give the Tigers the lead.

Keith Lewis added the Tigers final touchdown on a run in the third quarter.

Westfall's offense came to life with a touchdown in the second quarter and added another in the fourth period.

The Tigers defense came up with a recovered fumble and three pass interceptions to thwart the Mustangs offensive efforts.

Circleville is now 3-2-1 and will conclude the season Thursday at Washington C. H.

Redskins Stop Cowboys, 30-24

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

Sometimes there's more to a penalty than just 15 yards. Sometimes it's the difference between winning and losing.

In Washington, it was a 15-yarder slapped on Dallas quarterback Roger Staubach for throwing a punch in frustration. "That's the thing that gave us the impetus," Washington quarterback Billy Kilmer said. "Roger just lost his cool."

And in the heat of sudden-death overtime, Staubach and the Cowboys lost the game, too. Kilmer and the Redskins, aroused by the incident and buoyed by the 15 yards it gave them, marched relentlessly to the Dallas goal line. Then, with 6:34 gone in the extra period, Kilmer himself banged over for the touchdown that gave Washington a 30-24 victory.

In Cincinnati, a desperate Ken Anderson was tearing apart the Pittsburgh defense with his passes, trying to bring the Bengals back from a 23-3 deficit which he had slashed to 23-17.

But with the Bengals on the Pittsburgh 14-yard line and oh, so close to taking the lead with less than five minutes to play, a holding penalty on Cincinnati tight end Bob Trumpy moved the Bengals back to the 35.

One play later, Mike Wagner made his second interception of the game and returned it 65 yards to Cincinnati's 18. That set up another Pittsburgh touchdown and the Steelers prevailed 30-24.

Bengals' Coach Paul Brown saw that holding call as the game's critical play. "There wasn't much difference between the champs and the chumps," he said, "except for that 15-yard penalty."

In Sunday's other National Football League games, St. Louis beat New England 24-17, Houston topped Kansas City 17-13, Minnesota defeated Green Bay 28-17, Buffalo edged the New York Jets 24-23, Miami mauled Chicago 46-13, Oakland crushed Denver 42-17, New Orleans beat Atlanta 23-7, Detroit downed San Francisco 28-17 and Baltimore beat Cleveland 21-7. On Saturday, the New York Giants whipped San Diego 35-24. Los Angeles plays at Philadelphia tonight.

Redskins 30, Cowboys 24
Dallas lost its chance to kyo Washington when Toni Fritsch missed a 38-yard field goal with 14 seconds to go in regulation play. But the Cowboys seemed ready to overcome that problem when Staubach began passing them into Redskins' territory.

Then came his fatal mistake — the one that dropped Dallas into a three-way tie with the 'Skins and Cardinals in the National Conference East.

He threw a pass just as linebacker Chris Hanburger belted him — and the wobbly ball was picked off by Ken Houston and returned to midfield. Staubach, angered by his error, threw a punch at cornerback Pat Fischer during the runback.

And with the penalty, Washington had the ball at the Dallas 35 instead of at midfield. From there, it was academic. "I just did a stupid thing," Staubach admitted. "The play was over."

Steelers 30, Bengals 24
"This game gave us a big lift," Steelers quarterback Terry Bradshaw said after he passed to Lynn Swann for touchdowns of 37 and 25 yards, then piled in from the one for what proved to be the deciding touchdown.

Cardinals 24, Patriots 17
Terry Metcalf scored on runs of one and seven yards from scrimmage and on a 69-yard sprint with a punt to carry the Cards past New England. Mel Gray's punt returns of 19 and 27 yards set up Metcalf's two short scoring bursts.

Dayton Gems Stop Owls In IHL, 4-2

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Goals by wing Brian Stapleton, left wing Jack Patterson and centers Murray Fleck and Brian Kinsella lifted the Dayton Gems to a 4-2 International Hockey League victory over the Columbus Owls Sunday at Dayton.

Stapleton and Patterson scored in the first period, and Fleck and Kinsella scored in the third period for the Gems, now 5-3. Norm Cournoyer and Ed Kenty scored Columbus' two goals. The Owls are now 1-6-1.

In a battle for first place in the league's North Division, Flint downed Muskegon 6-1, aided by Ted Bulley's two goals.

Muskegon scored first with a goal by Brian Derksen. Flint chalked up six goals on shots by Bulley, Clyde Simon, Wayne Zuk, Doug Manchias and Bob Goodenow.

Flint stands at 5-3-1 for the season, while Muskegon dropped to 4-3-1. At Port Huron, Bill Watt scored the winning goal as the Flags defeated Toledo 3-2.

Quarterback Dan Pastorini and wide receiver Ken Burrough hooked up on touchdown pass plays of 71 and 57 yards — but it was Bob Atkins, Houston's second-string free safety, who made the biggest play.

He picked off a Mike Livingston pass at the Houston four-yard line with less than five minutes to play and returned it 70 yards to the Kansas City 26, preserving the triumph.

Vikings 28, Packers 17
Minnesota, trailing 17-14 on two Packer touchdowns by reserve running back Barty Smith, rallied to win on Fran Tarkenton's fourth-quarter touchdown passes of 19 yards to John Gilliam and 10 to Chuck Foreman.

Bills 24, Jets 23
With a 23-17 lead, about five minutes to play and a fourth-and-one on the Buffalo 20-yard line, New York Coach Charley Winner decided to go for the yard instead of the field goal. It didn't work.

The Bills stopped John Riggins at the line, then took over — and less than two minutes later, Joe Ferguson clicked with O.J. Simpson on a 64-yard touchdown pass for the victory.

Dolphins 46, Bears 13
Bob Griese passed for 288 yards, including touchdowns of 20 yards to Norm Bulaich, 79 yards to Nat Moore and 58 yards to Fred Solomon in Miami's rout of the Bears.

Raiders 42, Broncos 17
Denver had a 10-7 edge at the half, but was in trouble the rest of the way. Ken Stabler passed for two touchdowns in the third quarter and Pete Banaszak ran for two more in the fourth.

Saints 23, Falcons 7
Archie Manning heaved a 71-yard touchdown pass to Larry Burton to help the Saints give Ernie Hefferle, their new head coach, a victory in his debut against the Falcons.

Lions 28, 49ers 17
Joe Reed, subbing for injured Greg

Landry and Bill Munson, threw two touchdown passes in the third period to carry the Lions past his former San Francisco teammates.

Colts 21, Browns 7
Bert Jones threw two touchdown passes to lead Baltimore's offense and linebacker Stan White intercepted two passes, recorded three quarterback sacks and had 11 individual tackles to slam the door on Cleveland's offense, keeping the Browns winless.

Giants 35, Chargers 24
Craig Morton passed for two touchdowns and Joe Dawkins ran for two in the Giants' Saturday victory that handed the Chargers their seventh loss without a victory.

CLEVELAND (AP) — The line of wingers Lyle Moffat and Gerry Pinder and center Ron Ward made Cleveland Crusaders Coach Johnny Wilson's cigar taste particularly good Sunday night.

Moffat came up with two goals and an assist, Ward one goal and three

After four games this season, Archie Griffin of Ohio State had averaged 138 yards per game on 96 carries.

Army beat Navy in football this season by 31-26 but the game didn't make headlines because the teams were the service academies' 150-pound teams.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR TUESDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): An unexpected discovery you make will prove profitable. Your clue lies in reading between the lines, carefully studying the "fine print."

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): A day for remaining in the background. Your hunches are correct, but this is not the time for taking direct action. Only through subtlety will you win the gains you desire.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Be ready for changes. Some surprising orders will be given regarding your duties and responsibilities. Maintain your balance and avoid extremes.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): A day calling for your best judgment. Don't take action in a tricky situation before you've heard the whole story, and DO try to see the viewpoint of associates.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Don't regard decisions made in the a.m. as final. Certain circumstances may necessitate revision later in the day.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Be cautious in dealing with associates. Some may urge you to make certain commitments against your better judgment. Don't allow yourself to be pressured.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Good influences! Activities should be handled evenly so as not to lap over too much in any direction. Start with a tempo you can keep — and maintain it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Awareness will ward off many problems. Virgorous action may not be necessary, but thoroughness and surefootedness will be. Control emotions.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Neither charge with great force nor sit back doing nothing, in the hope that you'll win over the opposition of others. The innate good judgment of the Sagittarian should show you the way.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): A day to test your mettle. Take up the reins where others slacken, renovate, rehabilitate where you can. Lend your fine constructive talents freely.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Without giving up present undertakings, study what are possibly good new offerings. Give careful thought to decisions you must make soon. Outcomes could be extremely important to the future.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Direct your enthusiasm for worthy causes into progressive channels. You may have to revise previous plans, however. Especially favored now: travel, social interests.

YOU BORN TODAY are a highly competent individual, willing to work hard if the interest is there, but may drop a project if certain angles annoy. You combine the artistic and the practical more than most, and your ambition is boundless. You are a worker and a builder, and you want to (and usually do) reach the top — with its attendant acclaim. There are many fields from which you could choose what should be a brilliant career, but notably painting, literature, the law, medicine, real estate or the entertainment world. Eagles Face L.A. Rams Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia Eagles' Coach Mike McCormack says the toughest day before a Monday night nationally-televised National Football League game is Monday.

McCormack's Eagles, 1-5 and in the cellar of the National Football Conference East, meet the Los Angeles Rams in a TV game tonight. The Rams, 5-1 and comfortably in first place in the NFC West, are at least a one-touchdown favorite.

"Monday is an extremely difficult day to fill," McCormack explained. "It's not like a Sunday when you're playing by one o'clock. On Monday, you got to wait until 9 o'clock."

McCormack said he would let his players sleep in, but the coaches would work a little on next week's game against the St. Louis Cardinals. The Eagles stay as a group at a motel near the stadium the night before a game.

"At noon we'll take the team to a movie in the hotel until about 1:30 or so, then let them rest until our pre-game meal at 5 P.M.," McCormack said. The Eagles' coach, despite the change in routine necessitated by a Monday game, likes the idea of playing in the Monday night TV game.

Seafood Shoppe Opens Today

Ahoy mates, come aboard to Circleville's newest fast-food eating establishment, Long John Silver's Seafood Shoppe, which docked at 11 a.m. today on U. S. Route 23, one mile south of Circleville.

Although the seafood shoppe, appropriately ornamented with fish nets, lanterns and ship maps, officially opens today, the grand opening ribbon-cutting ceremonies were held Sunday evening.

City leaders and the press were in attendance along with Bill Wolfe, president of SF of Ohio, Inc., owner and operator of the Circleville business, Jim Near and Milt Lustrauer of Front IV, Inc., developers subleasing site to SF of Ohio and Bob Hupp, manager of the local store.

The new fast-order family restaurant, with a seating capacity for 80 persons, specializes in seafood dishes including fish and chips, peg-legs (miniature chicken drumsticks), fried shrimp, oysters, clams, and side orders of hush puppies, corn-on-the-cob and pecan pie.

Wolfe stated that approximately 20 employees have been hired from the surrounding area to operate the business. Assistant manager to Hupp is Ron McManaway.

SF of Ohio, Inc., based in Columbus, is a franchise of the national Long John Silver's, Inc., which operates over 400 units in the United States. The Circleville store is the eighth unit to operate in the Central Ohio area.

The restaurant was developed by Front IV, Inc., also of Columbus, which subleased the site to SF of Ohio from the Wacker Realty of Lancaster. C. E. Angles of Columbus constructed the 1,800 square foot facility with approximately 50 off-street parking spaces for customers.

Store hours for the restaurant will be 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday through Thursday and 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays.

LEGENDARY HAWAIIAN TI-PLANT (Dracaena)

One of the fastest growing, most fool-proof house plants we've ever seen. It's no wonder the Ti-Plant has been revered by native Hawaiians for its apparent magical powers. All we know is that it's a uniquely beautiful addition to any room. All you do is plant the Ti-root in moist potting soil (the bigger the pot, the larger your plant will grow - from 1 to 6 feet tall.) Within weeks the Ti-Plant will develop a healthy root system and begin to sprout. What a perfect way to introduce youngsters to the beautiful world of plants and gardens.

Funk & Wagnalls sells their encyclopedias direct through supermarkets instead of through door-to-door salesmen working on commission. So there's no high commission to pay and no high pressure sales pitch.

Funk & Wagnalls has utilized hundreds of consultants & contributors who helped put together the Centennial Edition of Funk & Wagnalls New Encyclopedia.

Each one is a recognized authority in his, or her, field of knowledge. And several have Nobel and Pulitzer prizes to their credit.

Their contributions make Funk & Wagnalls New Encyclopedia a comprehensive, accurate, home reference center with over 193,000 indexed subjects (that's as many as encyclopedias costing hundreds of dollars more.)

Stop by the Funk & Wagnalls display in any of our supermarkets and pick up Vol. 1. It's one of the smartest purchases you can make these days.
